Connections to Church Teaching and Tradition

In The Joy the Gospel, Pope Francis points out that the Gospel is not about our personal relationship with God or about performing a series of charitable acts but about "loving God who reigns in our world. To the extent that he reigns within us, the life of society will be a setting for universal fraternity, justice, peace and dignity." Pope Francis points out "Jesus' mission is to inaugurate the kingdom of his Father: he commands his disciples to proclaim the good news that 'the kingdom of heaven is at hand' (Matthew 10:7)" (180).

Just as Jesus sent his followers to preach and to heal, Christians today must continue to pass on the faith. Dei Verbum, the Dogmatic Constitution of Divine Revelation, states "God has seen to it that what He had revealed for the salvation of all nations would abide perpetually in its full integrity and be handed on to all generations. Therefore Christ the Lord in whom the full revelation of the supreme God is brought to completion (see Corinthians 1:20; 3:13; 4:6), commissioned the Apostles to preach to all men that Gospel which is the source of all saving truth and moral teaching, and to impart to them heavenly gifts."

Last week was Sea Sunday, when the Church prayed for all those who live and work at sea. Without them we would not have most of the items we buy in the shops. The second collection was for the Apostleship of the Sea (AoS), the Church's official maritime welfare agency. It supports seafarers both practically and spiritually. This collection is vital to enable it to continue its work. The collection raised £174.32 thank you and please remember seafarers in your prayers.

Lectionary for Mass

For today and the following six Sundays, we read from Paul's Letter to the Ephesians, whose theme is captured by these words: "In the Church Christ fulfils and reveals his own mystery as the purpose of God's plan: 'to unite all things in Christ'" (1:10; Catechism of the Catholic Church, 772). Today's reading from Ephesians (1:3-14) presents a beautiful hymn praising God the Father who has chosen us in Christ and blessed us in the Spirit "with all the spiritual blessings" from all eternity.

In the First Reading (Amos 7:12-15), God calls Amos from his ordinary life as a "shepherd and look[ing] after sycamores" to become a prophet carrying God's Word to God's people. Amos' task is to challenge the people to repent and return to their covenant relationship.

In today's Gospel (Mark 6:7-13), Jesus sends out the Apostles in pairs to share in his ministry of preaching and healing. Called to "preach repentance," they have no visible means of support, but God's grace was with them as they "cast out many devils and anointed many sick people with oil and cured them." This is the first of two places in the New Testament where healing occurs in relation to anointing with oil. The Letter of James shows the early Church anointing Jesus' instruction to heal those who are sick: "Are there any among you sick? They should call for the elders of the church and have them pray over them, anointing them with oil in the name of the Lord" (James 5:13). Today the Church continues this instruction in the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick. Just as were the prophet Amos and the Apostles, we have been chosen to be the Son's co-workers in continuing God's plan of bringing healing and grace to a broken world.

GREAT FUN AT YOUTH FEST '18: Our first ever Youth Fest was a great success on Saturday 16th June. 40 young people – aged 10 to 18 – participated in this free event organised by the parishes of Chesham Bois, Chesham, Gerrards Cross, Great Missenden and Little Chalfont. Every parish was represented and competed during the afternoon to win the Youth Cup. Plenty of games, such as rounders, sack race, tug of war, were organised in the field behind Our Lady's Church. St Columba's/Immaculate Heart of Mary finally won the Cup, but each parish won at least one of the games. St Joseph's won the Rounders and the 'Penalties against the Priests' and only narrowly missed out on winning the Cup. A BBQ helped the competitors to keep up their strength and a live band played throughout the three hour event. Many thanks to all the organisers and helpers who made this event such a success.
